The Journal of Advocacy, Research, and Education [JARE] offers an open opportunity for researchers to submit their proposals for special issues.

As we work to advance our mission as a global multidisciplinary journal, the JARE Team encourages themes on emerging issues in education and professional development of teachers.

Themes/topics for proposals must be in line with JARE's mission statement. Assessment of relevance and novelty will be carefully employed by peer reviewers to select the best proposals.

Outline for the proposal should include, but not limited to:

1. complete names, affiliations, and addresses [including emails] of the guest editor[s];
2. maximum of 6,000 words [including tables, figures, and references];
3. timetable;
4. 5-10 potential reviewers.

Completed proposals should be sent to the Editor-in-Chief [✉ kad@africamail.com] before 31st May 2020.

Thank you and hoping to receive your brilliant proposal.
